How it works

You lease the car in your name, through your employer. The car finance and its running costs are paid for using a combination of your pre and post-tax salary.

We'll help you set a budget for the ongoing running costs based on the type of vehicle you lease and how far you expect to drive it each year. You can adjust your budget at any time if it doesn't quite fit your requirements.

At the end of your lease period, which is on average 4-5 years, you have the option to lease a new car, re-lease your existing car or purchase the car outright by paying the residual value.

Your new car in just 5 steps

Step 1 – Get your employer on board.

We need to have an agreement in place with your employer to enable salary sacrifice deductions as part of the Novated Lease.

Step 2 – Find your new wheels.

Do your research online, and test drive a car or two to help you choose the one for you. If you want a second opinion, we can always help you decide. You can also use our Novated Lease calculator to work out the estimated repayments.

Step 3 – Lock in the savings.

You could save time and money, by letting our novated experts negotiate a competitive deal for your chosen new car with our dealers. For a used car, you would need to provide us the purchase price. You will then receive a quote based on your annual salary and the estimated kilometres you are likely to travel each year. This gives you an estimate of what the car repayments mean to your take home pay.

Step 4 – Complete your finance application online and return your authorised documents

Once you are happy with the numbers, the quote will need to be authorised by you and your employer. The next step is then to complete a quick online finance application online. credit criteria, terms and conditions, fees and charges does apply.

Step 5 – Drive away.

If approved, drive away in your new car. Your fuel card will be delivered to you shortly after your vehicle delivery. Your salary deductions commence via your employer's payroll. You'll receive detailed monthly reports from us so you can see how you're tracking, and you can always manage your lease, anytime with MyCar, a paperless Novated lease management tool.
